West Clermont High School Announces New Head Boys Basketball Coach

CINCINNATI (May 6, 2024) — At tonight's Board of Education meeting, Mr. Brandon Grammer was introduced as the next head boys basketball coach for West Clermont High School.

Grammer brings a wide range of coaching experiences to this position. Most recently, he has served as the Associate Head Basketball Coach for Taft High School. He has also been the Head Basketball Coach at Hughes STEM High School and Holy Cross High School in Covington, Kentucky. Previously, he also served as Head Basketball Coach across schools in Kentucky and Florida.

During his career, he has had 33 players that went on to play at the collegiate level, accumulated 129 wins in 10 years, and was 'District Coach of the Year' in 2012 and again in 2013.

"As the new boys basketball coach for West Clermont High School, I am committed to fostering a culture of excellence both on and off the court. Together, we will strive for victory with integrity, teamwork, and relentless determination," said Grammer. I am honored to lead these talented athletes and look forward to a season filled with growth, camaraderie, and unforgettable moments."

In addition to coaching, Grammar will join the high school faculty as a social studies teacher.

About West Clermont: West Clermont School District commits to excellence with every learner, every day, and in every way.
