West Clermont High School Announces New Head Football Coach

At tonight's Board of Education meeting, Mr. Ben Moorman was introduced as the next head football coach for West Clermont High School.

Moorman brings a wide range of experiences to this position. In addition to playing at the collegiate level for Mount St. Joseph University (MSJ), he has successful coaching experience at several other local school districts. After graduating from MSJ with a Bachelor of Science in Special Education, Moorman began his coaching career at Moeller High School. There, he spent three years as a varsity assistant and junior varsity head coach and helped the Crusaders to a Greater Catholic League (GCL) title. Moorman then served as the defensive backs coach for Loveland High School and the defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach for Madeira High School.

For the last two seasons, he has been a position coach and defensive coordinator for West Clermont. In addition, he is an Intervention Specialist at West Clermont High School and resides in the community with his wife Amber and three children, Ellie (10), Jack (5), and Will (4).

"I am extremely thankful for the opportunity to become the next head football coach at West Clermont and am excited to continue to build the football program for the student-athletes and the community," said Moorman.
